Foreword

Thank you for picking up a copy of Local Marketing Street Cred. This is one of my favorite products. It was the second product that I released to marketers on Jvzoo.

Years later, when I'm consulting with a coach, product creator or even a someone that wants to be an marketing agency, this is one of the main fears that creep up on them.

This report is jam packed with ideas and information that can put you way ahead of anyone else.

This as originally released circa 2015 but all of the content is still relevant.

CNN and USA Today have discontinued the service for letting anyone get their articles published. There is an amazing service called HARO. (Help a reporter out) that IMO, is even more powerful and effective because you are getting credibility and being interviewed and positioned at THE expert.
